DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g).

The informal drawings are not of sufficient quality to permit examination. Accordingly, new drawings are required in reply to this Office action.

Regarding figures 1-3, Examiner has a ^{reading} hard time to read "each element number" in each figure.

Specification

The use of the trademark "Trans-Impedance-Amplifier" has been noted in this application. It should be capitalized wherever it appears and be accompanied by the generic terminology.

Although the use of trademarks is permissible in patent applications, the proprietary nature of the marks should be respected and every effort made to prevent their use in any manner which might adversely affect their validity as trademarks.

Claim Objections

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities:

Line 8, reducing space between two words.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, line 4, it is unclear. The phrase of "...an electrical component device...removably retained" is not understood. What is meant of "an electrical component device to be removably retained".

Regarding claim 1, line 7, it is unclear. What does "its" refer to?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Van Lerberghe (U. S. Patent 6,151,221).

As best understood to claim 1, Van Lerberghe discloses a bracket (7, column 3, line 4) for mounting an electrical component device (5, column 2, line 65) as shown in figures 1-2 comprising:

a first end having a substantially semi-circular shape (13-figure 2a) and an inner and outer surface, whereby said inner surface and said substantially semi-circular shape permit an electrical component device to be removably attached thereon;

a second end (part of leg 24-figure 2b); and a shaft (23-figure 2b) connecting said first and second ends (see figure 2b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van Lerberghe in view of Prior Art (PA, reference cited by applicant)).

As to claims 2 and 3, Van Lerberghe discloses the limitations of claimed invention; except for an electrical component device is photodiode or a laser. PA shows an electrical component which is a photodiode or a laser (102) disclosed in figure 1.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the photodiode or laser as taught by PA to modify the component of Van Lerberghe in order to provide an indicator (light or LED) for a circuit board.

As to claim 4, Van Lerberghe does not disclose said shaft and said first and second ends are comprised of aluminum.

Art Unit: 2841

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use aluminum material to modify the bracket material of Van Lerberghe in order to reduce weight and ^{lessen} ~~less~~ conductivity.

As to claim 5, Van Lerberghe discloses the bracket as shown in figure 2 wherein said shaft forms a right angle whereby said second end and at least one mounting point (32-figure 2c) are disposed 90 degrees relative to said first end.

As best understood to claims 6-7, Van Lerberghe discloses the bracket as shown in figure 1 further comprises a plug in circuit board (2) having a Trans-Impedance-Amplifier.

Regarding claims 8-10, the method steps are necessitated by the bracket structure as it is disclose by Van Lerberghe in view of PA.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Harr, Fasano, and Harman et al. disclose related art.
